Educational and Professional Background (As of 2/1/05)

Barry J. Dubin is a licensed clinical social worker who provides counseling services to children, adolescents, adults and families. He has extensive experience in family service agencies and outpatient mental health clinics. He received his Master of Social Work degree from Hunter College, City University of New York, in 1975. He completed a two year field placement at North Shore University Hospital, Manhasset, N.Y.

In addition to his current full-time practice of psychotherapy and family counseling, Mr. Dubin is a founding member of Arizona Priority Counseling and Education, LLC, a contracted provider of the Parent Information Program of Maricopa County. Since 1997, Mr. Dubin has presented this program to divorcing parents about the impact of divorce on children.
